No Suspect in Illinois Slaying

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP) — The chief of police, a courteous, soft-spoken man, fingered his bow tie and considered the question. "We don't," he said, "have what we could call a real hot suspect."

That is the status of the search for the murdered 21-year-old Valerie Percy, five months after the fact.

"There are more than 1,000 items of physical evidence in this case," said Police Chief Robert Daley in an interview. "There are some items we regard as clues. But there is nothing we think of as a real good lead."

Snow splashes the two acres of lawn around the $200,000 mansion where a killer bludgeoned and knifed to death Valerie Percy last Sept. 18.

There are no other surface changes at the home of Valerie's father, millionaire Charles H. Percy, now a U.S. senator, or in Kenilworth, a Chicago enclave for the very rich on the shore of Lake Michigan.

Occasionally, Chief Daley, commuting 55 miles each morning to his job, drives past the 17-room limestone mansion, set off from the main road by its private drive. Trees and hedges form a covering maze for the house, named Windward.

For Daley and for his 14-man force there is another kind of maze involving Windward — one formed by the massive file of information on the unsolved slaying of Valerie Percy.

On Sept. 17, Daley, a 34-year-

Truckers Seek Raise of 7 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa says he hopes to win some 7 per cent in wage hikes for 600,000 trucking industry workers without a strike.

But "we have no way to control the inflationary spiral that has taken place in the United States," Hoffa said in indicating the Teamsters won't scale down their demands without a stiff fight.

Trucking workers now make from $3.32 to $5 per hour, plus extra mileage pay for drivers and various fringe benefits. Hoffa said the new demands ranged from 5 to 7 per cent in wages and 2 per cent in fringe benefits.

Although Hoffa has previously said he would never call a na-

Showdown in China Is Likely

By EUGENE LEVIN
TOKYO (AP) — Red China's feuding Communist leaders appeared deadlocked in their power struggle today with each unwilling to compromise or to force a showdown.

A week after Mao Tse-tung issued a virtual ultimatum to the followers of President Liu Shao-chi, there was every indication it had been ignored and that Mao's boast of support from the armed forces had not budged his opponents.

Mao's New China News Agency referred in one dispatch to "the bastions in which counter-revolutionary revisionism has entrenched itself" and refrained from proclaiming final victory over what it called the "latest counter attack" by Mao's opponents.

The Peking correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri reported that the upheaval on the mainland seemed to have "passed its peak" and that tension was subsiding in Shanghai, Nanking, Peking and other cities.

He credited the changed atmosphere to Mao's personal assumption of leadership.

But the available evidence pointed out a pause only.

In Shanghai, where Mao's official news outlets admitted anti-Mao strikes and sabotage had occurred, Liu's followers presumably were clinging to the municipal party apparatus.

Official organs for the past week charged that Shanghai party leaders had turned workers against Mao by promising them higher wages and better working conditions. But the dispatches did not say these leaders had been replaced. The implication was that they were holding on to their jobs.

It was doubtful that such a situation could continue long. Shanghai, a city of eight million, is the commercial hub of China. Industrial and commercial unrest there could poison the country's business life and compel Mao's faction to force a showdown there.

So far it has not been able to do so or has not wanted to.

President Liu has been under attack in Red Guard wall posters for almost two months and in party cells for at least six months. That he and his followers have resisted the attacks for so long, and in a Communist state, testifies to their strength.

They appear to hold positions of such strength in the party that it seems to be more a case of Mao rebelling against them than their rising against him. Mao's supporters call themselves "revolutionary rebels."

One of the current targets of Red Guard posters is Marshal Chu Teh, the venerated 80-year-old father of the Chinese Red army. The Japanese Kyodo News Agency said he was attacked for the third day in a row, with a poster charging he had sought to undermine Mao for almost 40 years.

Church Group to Host 15 Congregations

Eugene Shuster, local presiding minister for the Hope Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the Hope Congregation will be host to 15 other congregations and groups of the Witnesses at the spring circuit convention that will convene here February 24-26, 1967.

The three-day meeting has been arranged by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York and will attract delegates from all of southwest Arkansas.

"Our main interest in having these assemblies two times a year is to gather for advanced Bible instruction and to improve our methods of preaching," Shuster said. "We are very seriously concerned about our Christian responsibility to share with others the good things of God's Word and we find these study sessions to be a great aid in maintaining unity in our work in this area of the Arkansas Circuit No. 2."

Members of all ages will benefit from the many talks, skits, demonstrations and discussions that will be sponsored by members who have been assigned to speak on the program.

The highlight of the meeting will be the showing of the new color motion film Sunday afternoon Feb. 26. This will be handled by the district supervisor, Nicholas Kovalak, Jr. He will also act as chairman for the entire assembly.

Shuster concluded that much advanced work and planning would be required to take care of the large crowd expected at that time.

Advance hotel and motel reservations are already being arranged for and even private homes will be sought for housing facilities in case enough rooms cannot be found in hotels and motels. 600 are expected at the peak attendance.

All of these sessions are open to the public and they are all invited to attend.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

SHE SHOULD BE A PRIVATE GUMSHOE

Dear Helen: I hope you can help this poor wife by wishing her up with this letter. She'll recognize her rounder husband from my description.

I'm sure there must be a wife.

Here's the scoop. This man who looks like he is in his late 30's comes in the luncheonette across from my apartment every morning and meets this bleached blonde teenager. They sit together and have their coffee, and I think it's disgusting. She looks like she's getting a big charge out of it. But what she really needs is a good tanning, flirting with a man who probably has kids her age, while his poor wife slaves at home.

I have figured he works at night, so he can meet her there before school. I am enclosing a complete description of his car, license number, and of him and the girl.

It's too bad the husband's can't see how the pretty young things look in rollers and all. They only see the finished product. What burns me more is they compare them to their wives who kill themselves working-cooking, cleaning, taking care of children, while these young slens spend their whole afternoons bleaching and ironing their tresses, so that the following morning they (and especially SHE) can eat up more false flattery from a husband and father who could definitely be HER father.

-AGENT 99

Dear 99: . . . And probably is!

Why don't you put down the binoculars and tend to your housework? I'm not interested in your license number caper - but there's one good thing about this super-snooping: your husband can be sure YOU will never play around-where would you find the time?—H.

Dear Helen: I am a divorced woman with two children. What I want to know is: When I date, should I pay the baby sitter or should the man?—CURIOUS

Dear Curious: You should pay the baby sitter.—H.

Dear Helen: I have been married almost a year. My husband had been in trouble with the law before we were married. This I knew, but I didn't know he had broken his parole terms when he came to our State. Three months after the wedding, he realized he would have to wipe the slate clean, so he turned himself in and has been gone ever since. He supposed to come home the middle of next year.

Right now I am working to send him a little money each month and to support myself. We hope the time will pass quickly.

My problem is: why do people here try to get me to cheat on him? When I explain that I'm very much in love with my husband, they think I'm off my rocker and try even harder. How can people be so cruel as to want to break up?

Please Helen, and I'm sure I speak for most women: Whether husbands are in jail or overseas, tell people the wives need encouragement to stay true, not constant invitations to be untrue. Even women friends ask me to fill in when there are extra men, hoping I'll start dating them.

Please pass the hint along that we love and respect our men and we don't appreciate being called "cold" or "square" simply because we have high standards for ourselves. It's awfully hard being considered fair game for all the men.—NOT PLAYING BECAUSE OF LOVE

Dear NPBO: Consider them told—and keep telling them, dear. May your husband always be worthy of you!—H.

There was a difference about China's relationship with the Soviet Union. Gayn thought that the break between the two nations could be repaired. The others felt that the Soviet Union is not eager to have a strong nation on its flank.

The discussion, while fluent and philosophical, did little to clear up the average viewer's confusion.

NBC plans to replace "The Andy Williams Show" May 21 with a series of adventure programs, "The Saint." They are part of a long-playing British series starring Roger Moore, some of which have been seen on television in various parts of this country, but not on a network. They are based on the dashing character created in books by Leslie Charteris.

Williams' NBC contract has run out, and it is known that he would prefer to star in occasional specials instead of in a weekly variety show.

ABC is proceeding with plans to shoot "Silent Night" as a Christmas show for next season. It is to be part of the "Stage 67" series, so presumably that anthology program will be around next year. It is almost definite, however, that it will not have a fixed day and hour of broadcast, but will pre-empt other programs as a weekly special.

Yerger in Lopsided Victory

By JAMES HAMILTON

The Yerger Tigers revenge-fully defeated the Buffaloes of Arkadelphia by a score of 73-47 here in Harris Gymnasium last night. The Junior Boys were not as fortunate as the Senior Boys and were defeated by a score of 33-13, but despite their loss their effort was greater than usual.

The Junior Boys last night didn't score as many as they usually do but gave the spectators a great show in displaying their maneuvers and endeavorance to get the ball.

At the end of the half, the Tigers were only behind by 9 points as the score was then 16-7. But as the second half opened, the Tigers began to show aspects of being a good team as their agility and willingness to take the ball help them to decrease the Buffaloes lead to only 5 points going into the third quarter.

Even though the Tigers put on a good show, they knew that only one of the two teams could win and unfortunately they weren't the ones as the score ended 33-13.

After the Junior Boys lose the Senior Boys came out with revenge for their to the Buffaloes Saturday night. They knew that two straight losses in a row to the same team wouldn't make a very good impression, so they decided to change such a pessimistic thought.

The Tigers led at the end of the first quarter by only a small margin, but at the end of the first half the score was 45-26.

For the remainder of the game the scores were interchanging as the difference was only 19 points until the latter portion of the fourth quarter when the Tigers increased their lead to 26 points and the score ended 73-47 with another successful game for the Tigers.

The scorers for the Senior Boys were: Johnnie Smith 19, Ernest Standokes 18, Spenser Brown 16, Sydney Ross 9, Ray Garland 6, and Kenneth Muldrew 4.

The Junior Boys leading scorer was Frank Prater with 8 points.

Nobody to Fool With Substitution

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The meeting of the nation's college football rules makers in Phoenix is distinctive. Nobody wants to fool with the substitution rule.

It marks only the second time since 1942 that the National Collegiate Athletic Association Football Rules Committee hasn't tinkered with substitutions.

The committee, which opened its meeting Monday and hopes to wind up business Wednesday, has agreed on some points which could lead to rules changes.

A subcommittee headed by Jack Curtice, head coach at the University of California at Santa Barbara, submitted a list of several possible changes.

One would allow a coach to talk with one player on the sideline during a timeout and another would give officials authority to stop the clock when game is being delayed, as during the moving of sideline chains.

Others would eliminate the tackle eligible play, abolish line shifts designed to draw offensive players offside, prohibit a player signaling for a fair catch from clocking and eliminate offsetting penalties on interceptions.

In all, nine rules changes were recommended by Curtice's subcommittee, none of them considered major by delegates attending the rules session.

Australian Sets Record

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — John Bennett, 19-year-old Australian swimmer, bettered the world record for the 800-meter freestyle Monday night with a clocking of 8 minutes, 47.3 seconds.

Bennett broke Russian Semen Belyaev's listed world mark by one-tenth of a second in an outdoor meet at New South Wales.

Leachville Beaten in 5 Overtimes

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Second-ranked Blytheville knocked No. 1 Leachville from the unbeaten list Tuesday night with a 53-46 triumph in five overtimes.

The score was deadlocked 29-29 at halftime, 33-33 at the end of regulation play, 36-36 after the first and second overtimes, 38-38 after the third and 44-44 after the fourth.

Walt Hampton scored 20 points for Blytheville and John Link had 14 for Leachville.

Leachville is now 19-1 and Blytheville 13-1 for the year. Leachville beat Blytheville 46-41 earlier in the season.

SMU on Top in the SW Conference

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Southern Methodist and the Texas Aggies teamed up Tuesday night to change the standings in the Southwest Conference basketball race.

Southern Methodist, which had been tied with Texas for second place, took over sole ownership of the spot by downing Arkansas 69-59 while the Aggies were thrashing Texas 68-59. SMU is now 4-1 in league play.

The loss drops Texas to third place with a 3-2 mark. The Aggies, who had been in the cellar with Texas Tech and Rice with identical 1-3 marks, vaulted into a fourth place tie with Arkansas.

Both A&M and Arkansas have 2-3 records. Baylor follows with a 1-2 mark.

Texas Christian, leading the conference race with a perfect 3-0 record, is idle this week.

The two Tuesday night games were the only conference title scheduled for this week because of final exams. Texas Tech will meet New Mexico State at Lubbock Saturday night in an inter-section game.

Arkansas held a narrow 30-29 lead at halftime but the Mustangs forced ahead early in the second half for a 10 point advantage. The Razorbacks managed to slim the SMU lead to six points before the Mustangs pushed ahead for the final score. Bob Begert of Southern Methodist was top scorer with 18 points. David Self paced Arkansas with 15.

The Aggies hit 57.4 per cent of their floor shots and controlled the boards, 45-36. After trailing 19-9 midway in the first half, the Aggies shooting sharpened for a 35-31 halftime advantage. Billy Bob Barbett and Sonny Benefield paced the Aggies with 14 points each while Larry Lake was high for Texas with 12.

Super Season of 76ers of Philadelphia

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Talk all you want about Super Bowls, but for the Philadelphia 76ers, it's Super Season in the National Basketball Association.

What else can you call it when a team has won 42 games and lost only four, and shows no signs of letting up.

The monotony of victory continued Tuesday night as the 76ers handled the New York Knicks 119-111 for their 35th straight triumph in Philadelphia. They haven't lost there since last January.

The Boston Celtics, having only a great season, tripped the Chicago Bulls 109-101 in Chicago, but remained 9-2 games behind the 76ers in the Eastern Division.

Philadelphia, well on its way to cracking the Celtics' record of 62 victories in a season, hit 10 of its first 12 shots and led by 23 in the second period before the Knicks cut the deficit to 66-59 at the half. But they never got closer than five after the break.

Wally Jones led the 76ers with 27, Chet Walker added 22, Bill Cunningham 21 and Wilt Chamberlain 19. Walt Bellamy, Dick Barnett and Cazzie Russell each had 18 for the Knicks.

The Celtics, who have won 31 times in 43 games, beat the Bulls for the seventh straight meeting, relying on Bailey Howell's 30 points.

Chicago trailed at the half 53-44 and pulled within four points several times after that, but Larry Siegfried and John Havlicek kept the Celtics ahead. Then Howell hit four straight baskets in the final five minutes to wrap up the victory.

Jerry Sloan had 28 points for the Bulls.

Board Steals Spotlight in Hockey Loop

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's Board of Governors has stolen the spotlight from tonight's 20th annual All Star Game.

Announcement was expected early today of the league's plan for stocking the six new expansion franchises who begin playing next season.

President Clarence Campbell said Tuesday that the board had reached agreement in principle on the stocking plan and that final ratification was expected at today's meeting.

Speculation centered around a proposal which would allow the NHL's six present teams to protect 11 players — six forwards, four defensemen and one goalie — with the expansion teams picking from the remaining personnel.

The stocking plan will also have a back-up feature to reinforce the six new clubs with additional players after their first year.

The six new teams which start play next October are Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Minneapolis-St. Paul, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Under the NHL's expansion program, each team's owners paid $2 million for 20 players and the franchise.

Campbell also announced Tuesday an increase in bonus cash for participants in the Stanley Cup playoffs. Winners of the semifinal round will get $2,250 per man instead of the previous $1,500. Semifinal losers receive $1,500 each, an increase of $500 per man.

The Stanley Cup final series winners will get $3,000 each and the losers $1,500. Previously the shares were $2,000 each for the Cup winners and $1,000 for the losers.

The West also lost a player as workouts started after a one-day delay caused by fog that slowed air travel.

Tight end Fred Arbanas of Kansas City re-injured his separated shoulder in last Sunday's Super Bowl and Jacques McNichol of San Diego was named to take over his spot.

Nance gained 1,458 yards, an AFL record, last season, and was the AFL's most valuable player.

Williams spent his pro career with the Redskins and the Chicago Bears.

Buffaloes Are Right at the Top

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer Knocked out of first place in the Big Eight Conference by Nebraska last week, the Colorado Buffaloes are back on top today.

The Buffaloes upset the seventh-ranked Kansas Jayhawks 62-59 in one of the top college basketball games Tuesday night to regain the conference lead.

A free throw by Steve Rowe on a 1-and-1 situation with five seconds left broke a 59-59 tie and Bob Bauers' tip-in of Rowe's missed second free throw sent the Jayhawks down to defeat.

"KU beat us by about 20 points 72-54 in the Big Eight Christmas tournament and we were at full strength then," Colorado Coach Sox Walseth said before the game at Boulder.

"Now we have two starters out with injuries," He referred to Lynn Baker, out with a dislocated shoulder, and Chuck Williams, who has an injured knee.

It didn't work out that way, however. Colorado led virtually all the way and held a 57-50 lead before Kansas rallied to tie at 59-59 on Vern Vandy's basket and five straight points by Roger Bohnenstiel with two minutes left. Bohnenstiel fouled Rowe in the closing seconds setting the stage for Rowe and Bauers to score the winning points.

Kansas was the only team in The Associated Press top Ten to see action, but Bradley whipped Cincinnati 84-59 in a battle of two former members of the Top Ten.

Wichita downed Drake 91-85 in overtime, DePaul edged Bowling Green 73-72, Southern Methodist defeated Arkansas 69-59, Weber State humbled Seattle 86-72 and Dartmouth snapped a 19-game Ivy League losing streak by beating Harvard 67-63 in other games.

Director of Athletics

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Gene Vance was named athletic director of Illinois University, effective April 1, succeeding Doug Mills, who resigned in November.

Nance Won't Be Able to Play Sat.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Jets, which has never won an American Football League All Star Game, must play Saturday's renewal without the conference's record-setting rusher, Jim Nance.

The Boston fullback disclosed Tuesday that a request for a two-day delay had been denied and he must report Friday for six months National Guard duty with his Massachusetts unit.

East Coach Mike Holovak of Boston named Wray Carleton of Buffalo to replace Nance for the Saturday clash at the Oakland Coliseum. New York's Matt Snell probably will start, however.

The West also lost a player as workouts started after a one-day delay caused by fog that slowed air travel.

Teachers Shoot in Clutch, Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Arkansas State Teachers, riding the clutch shooting of Danny Wood, rolled to its eighth victory in 10 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference games Tuesday night by trimming Ozarks 86-75.

In the only other conference game Henderson defeated Arkansas Tech 93-71. The Hendrix-Arkansas A&M game at Monticello was postponed because of bad weather and road conditions.

Wood poured in 10 points during a spurt in which ASTC broke a 62-62 deadlock by scoring 17 points while the Mountaineers went scoreless.

Wood scored 30 points and Mickey Johnson added 24 for the Bears. Jerry Cools led Ozarks with 25.

The difference at Russellville was big Larry Duckworth who scored 23 points and pulled down 22 rebounds. Hubert Langley led Henderson scoring with 26 points. Top scorer for Tech was Paul Brown with 22 points.

Blocked Shot Preserves Bullet Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Jumping Joe Caldwell had the Baltimore Bullets on the ropes, but lean LeRoy Ellis cornered him on the last leap.

Ellis, Baltimore's 6-foot-11 pivotman, blocked Caldwell's jump shot from the corner with four seconds to play, preserving the Bullets' 100-99 victory over the St. Louis Hawks at Tampa, Fla., in Monday night's only National Basketball Association action.

Ellis came up with the game-saving defensive play after the Hawks, led by the 6-foot-5 Caldwell, wiped out an eight-point deficit in the final two minutes. The spring-legged St. Louis forward scored 26 points, high for either team.

U.S. Figure Skating Title Up for Grabs

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer HA, Neb. (AP) — The real kids among America's youthful dandies on ice grab the opening spotlight today in the U.S. Figure Skating Championships.

Most interest in the four-day competition at the Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum will center on senior singles defenses by brilliant teen-agers Scott Allen and Peggy Fleming, seeking their third and fourth national titles, respectively.

Allen, from Smoke Rise, N.J., and Miss Fleming, Colorado College freshman, will get down to business later in the week, but junior men and junior ladies begin compulsory figures competition today.

The program for a field of more than 130 top skaters also gets cranked up today with initial rounds for gold dance and senior pairs competition.

After Saturday's night wind-up, America's squad is expected to be named for the world meet at Vienna Feb. 28-March 4.

It was almost six years ago, Feb. 15, 1961, to be exact, that all 18 members of the America's figure skating team were killed in a plane crash near Brussels, Belgium, while en route to the world meet at Prague.

Hogs Scare But Can't Beat SMU

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas threw a scare into defending champion Southern Methodist for about 30 minutes Tuesday night before the Mustangs pulled away to a 69-59 Southwest Conference basketball victory.

The Razorbacks held three-point leads twice in the opening half and took a 30-29 edge to the dressing room at intermission when Ken Bailey scored at the buzzer.

But Bob Begert, Bill Voight and Denny Holman took over in the second half to speak a Mustang rally. SMU went ahead 47-42 with about 10 minutes remaining and led by 6 to 10 points the rest of the way.

Begert led SMU with 18 points while Voight had 15, Lynn Phillips 12 and Charles Beasley and Holman 10 each.

David Self led Arkansas with 15 points, Benton Cone had 12, Gary Stephens 11 and Wally Freeman 10.

Heavyweights Keeping Up That Talk

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay took a holiday from training today and Ernie Terrell, angry about being second banana on the billboards, talked to promoters of their Feb. 6 heavyweight championship showdown fight about changes he wants in the advertising campaign.

Shortly after Clay carved his 57th-pound 25th birthday cake, a gift from the Astrodome proprietors Tuesday, Terrell was telling a news conference, "Either they give me equal billing or 48 hours from now I am going to pack my bags and go home."

Later, Terrell pushed the starting time for the 48 hours back to this morning and the Houston Sports Association, proprietors of the fight site, the Astrodome, agreed to talk.

Plastered across Houston are singles defenses by both fighters names in the same size lettering, but featuring a drawing of Clay and none of Terrell.

On the side of 150 buses are miniatures of the billboard, and 300 indoor signs have Clay's picture and Clay's name larger by far than Terrell's name.

"This is absolutely and positively ridiculous," Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, said. "According to this, Clay has the fight already won."

Clay, the consensus heavyweight champion, waited almost 45 minutes after his five-round workout Tuesday for Terrell to arrive at the exhibit hall they share as a gym. When they met Monday, they had scuffled briefly.

At the hall, police were alerted to escort Terrell through a back door, and Clay left after promoters told him Terrell would be late.

Bundy to Get Cosmos Award

The 2,800-member, Washington-based club made the announcement Monday night.

DR. LESTER SITZES

Dr. Lester Sitzes, Hope Chamber of Commerce President, made a strong appeal in a talk Tuesday before Hope Kiwanis club for whole hearted cooperation of all local business firms in backing the chamber of commerce this year in both time and money.

He urged prompt payment of dues of all members, and asked that dues be increased wherever possible. The future of Hope has a direct bearing on the lives of all of us and our families, Dr. Sitzes pointed out, and we and we need greater enthusiasm and a healthier budget to accomplish our goals in the new year, the speaker declared.

Dr. Sitzes announced that the annual membership and banquet would be held the night of February 3 and that Charles White, Kroger Company official, would be here to speak. Details of the program will be announced later. Garland Medders, City Manager, and B. N. Holt, Chamber Secretary, were guests of the club. The program was arranged by Tommy Purvis.

Reagon Takes Tuition Drive to U of C

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan will take his economy drive to the University of California regents Thursday and "express myself in favor of tuition."

Reagan, Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Max Rafferty will attend the regents meeting in Berkeley.

Finch said he doesn't expect the regents to adopt tuition fees this week, but added he hopes they initiate study of them.

Reagan told a news conference Tuesday he would not ask the legislature to impose tuition fees at the state college, unless regents do the same for the University of California. Neither institution now has tuition, although both impose service fees.

Reagan strongly condemned the administration of the university and the colleges for holding up final admission procedures of new students — a move prompted by his proposed 10 per cent spending cutback for all state agencies.

He called the action "precipitate and unwarranted" and declared "students and parents of students have been unnecessarily disturbed and even frightened."

The statement was his toughest yet in the controversy over the new Republican administration's attempt to cut expenses to help meet an expected $473 million budget deficit.

Panel Picked to Decide on Powell

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The panel that decides on Adam Clayton Powell's qualifications to be a member of Congress apparently will include five Democrats from the House Judiciary Committee.

Speaker John W. McCormack, who has had trouble finding members willing to serve on the special Powell panel, reportedly has decided to select five Democratic members from the Judiciary Committee.

In refusing to seat Powell last week, the House voted to create a committee of five Democrats and four Republicans to investigate Powell's qualifications and recommend within five weeks whether he be seated or expelled.

McCormack said Tuesday he had decided who the Democratic members would be, but would not announce their appointments until the Republicans named their representatives.

Republican leaders, busy with their rival State of the Union message to be delivered Thursday night, had not gotten around to selecting their committee members Tuesday. There was no indication they would follow McCormack's lead and name Judiciary Committee members.

The Judiciary Committee is composed of lawyers and includes experts in constitutional law, which is liable to figure prominently in the Powell investigation. The House, in holding up Powell's seating, is acting under its constitutional authority to judge its own members' fitness.

The Judiciary Committee also has helped produce all the recent civil rights bills, which would tend to neutralize any complaint Powell might make that he is being treated unfairly because he is a Negro.

The chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and expected to be chairman of the special Powell committee, is Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. Celler is dean of the House and is now serving his 23rd term.

Celler took an active part in the House debate last Tuesday, urging that Powell be seated while his qualifications were investigated. He called the Republican proposal, which was adopted, "a dangerous precedent."

Celler voted for the GOP position, however, after it was approved by voice vote as a substitute for the proposal to seat Powell first.

Celler was an early advocate of the view that Powell should have his qualifications examined by the House, and has been singled out for heavy criticism by Powell's Harlem supporters. There have been reports that a prominent Negro will run against Celler in his Brooklyn district in the next Democratic primary. Such political pitfalls could lie in wait for all those who serve on the Powell committee, which is the main reason McCormack has had a difficult time finding members for it.

Politics Stirs Again in Viet Nam

By KENNETH L. WHITING
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Party politics are stirring anew in Vietnam in preparation for civilian elections promised for later this year.

A new constitution is scheduled to be completed by March 27. Village and hamlet elections are expected in May or June. National elections are supposed to take place within six months after the constitution goes into effect, probably in November or December.

There is political ferment at the top in Saigon in Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's war cabinet, in the Constituent Assembly which is writing the constitution, in the Army-People's Council, an advisory body, and among old-line politicians who hold no office.

Politicking is also reported at the rice roots, especially in the five northernmost provinces which include the cities of Hue and Da Nang.

Political observers are already "ticket balancing" — speculating over possible candidates for president and vice president. Some feel the best accommodation for these offices would be a military man and a civilian, one from the north and the other from South Vietnam.

One possible combination, sources said, is Constituent Assembly Chairman Phan Khac Suu and the present premier, Air Vice Marshal Ky. Suu was chief of state in previous regimes in the past three years and is a southerner. Ky is a refugee from what is now North Vietnam.

The draft constitution blends American presidential government with the British parliamentary system. In practice it will most closely resemble the Korean or French forms of government.

The president and vice president are to be elected. An estimated six million persons over 18 are eligible to vote. A National Assembly is to be elected several weeks after the president and vice president.

The Cabinet is to be selected by the president, but individual ministers can be unseated by a simple majority vote in the lower house of the assembly. The Cabinet could be turned out by a two-thirds majority.

The idea, according to Vietnamese officials, is to provide the continuity of a president elected for a fixed term with the right of a parliament to censure the government.

The switch from a military regime to civilian government will be a touchy business. There is a wide gap between the ideals of democratic government and the realities of Vietnam. Civilian politicians failed time after time to achieve a political movement capable of holding the country together.

After national elections the junta now ruling the country theoretically would be dissolved. But even hopeful Vietnamese politicians expect the military will insist upon retaining some civil authority.

Charity Deductions Have Specific Limits

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

You may deduct any cash payments made during 1966 to any recognized charity. Contributions to needy individuals — no matter how worthy the cause — are never deductible.

Generally, deductible contributions will include your church, Red Cross, United Appeal and similar agencies. Pledges made to churches and similar organizations are not deductible, only the amount actually paid on them in the year covered by the return.

Deductible contributions must be within maximum limitations, although such limits rarely affect the average person. The limits are 20 per cent of adjusted gross income for contributions to private charitable foundations and 30 per cent of adjusted gross income if public charities got at least 10 per cent of your gifts.

While there never can be a deduction for the value of personal services performed in behalf of charity, in some instances out-of-pocket expenses in certain types of volunteer work are deductible. This would include expenses incurred while serving as an unpaid delegate to a church convention, attending meetings as a church choir member, serving as a Gray Lady or hospital volunteer, or as a den mother to

Cub Scouts, Brownie troops or similar organizations. Such expenses might include transportation expenses (you may charge five cents a mile for the use of your car), parking charges, the cost of required uniforms which are not adaptable to ordinary wear and the cost of meals and lodging if away from home overnight while performing such volunteer service. Attach a statement to your return detailing these expense items. If you contributed works of art, clothing, furniture, home appliances to a charity, the fair market value of the item — what you could have received for it in cash on the open market — determines your deduction. (NEXT: Deductible taxes and interest.)

Brookfield Spends Money

BROOKFIELD, Ill. (AP)— Brookfield Zoo plans to renovate and develop its facilities in a multimillion-dollar program. George R. Beach Jr., chairman of the zoo's Development Committee, said $5.5 million is needed for the creation of an animal farm for the breeding of rare and nearly extinct species. Among the renovation projects are a modernized primate house, lion house, a new reptile house and a jungle building. It will permit the public to take a walk through a jungle setting where several species of large and small animals will be living together in a simulated natural habitat.

Brookfield Spends Money

BROOKFIELD, Ill. (AP)— Brookfield Zoo plans to renovate and develop its facilities in a multimillion-dollar program. George R. Beach Jr., chairman of the zoo's Development Committee, said $5.5 million is needed for the creation of an animal farm for the breeding of rare and nearly extinct species. Among the renovation projects are a modernized primate house, lion house, a new reptile house and a jungle building. It will permit the public to take a walk through a jungle setting where several species of large and small animals will be living together in a simulated natural habitat.

The heaviest snowfall in the history of New York City occurred Dec. 26-27, 1947, according to The World Almanac. In a 24-hour period the city was buried beneath 26.4 inches of snow. Shops closed, traffic snarled and the life of the great city virtually came to a stop. The 1947 storm deposited 5.4 more inches of snow than the famed blizzard of 1888.

Jim says: "You played with Benito Garrozzo and Omar Sharif in New York last month. What did you think of their game?"

Oswald: "Garrozzo is just as good as you would expect a World's Champion to be. He is also about as nice as any bridge player I have ever met. Sharif plays very well but is not as good as Garrozzo. He is just as nice to play with."

Jim: "Today's hand is one you played as Garrozzo's partner in a short team match at Tobias Stone's apartment. He was North, wasn't he?"

Oswald: "Yes. The bidding shows his style. In spite of the fact that West opened and rebid Garrozzo thought we might have a slam. Instead of jumping right to four spades he gave me two slam invitations by bidding both of West's suits."

Jim: "All you could do was keep rebidding your hopeless spade suit. Was he afraid that you might get discouraged and pass?"

Oswald: "No. He did put a lot of pressure on me but I am too old to start passing my partner's forcing bids."

Jim: "I see that four spades made easily. What happened at the other table?"

Oswald: "Leon Vallouze, who is in America with Benito and Omar, held the West hand and opened one heart. The American expert sitting North doubled and Omar Sharif, with the courage of Genghis Khan (another of his starring vehicles) stuck in a three-heart bid. South and West passed and North merely bid three spades."

Jim: "I guess South did some soul searching and passed."

Oswald: "Right, so we gained six International Match Points."

Fight Birth Defects In March of Dimes Drive

Famed actresses Jane Wyatt, Angela Lansbury and Gigi Perreau share a secret—they have learned there can be a great deal more to life than the glamour and glitter of stage and screen stardom.

Behind the scenes these stars are among the more than one million American women who have become March of Dimes volunteers so that countless millions of infants, yet unborn, may have the chance to lead normal and useful lives.

For the fourth consecutive year, Miss Wyatt is national chairman of the March of Dimes Mothers' March on birth defects. Miss Lansbury is chairman in New York City, and Miss Perreau is chairman in Los Angeles, Calif.

As the world of stars helps the 1967 March of Dimes, so does the world of space. The Mothers' March chairman in Houston, Tex., is Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper Jr., wife of the famous astronaut, while the mother of astronaut Wally Schirra, Mrs. Walter Schirra Sr., heads the Mothers' March in San Diego, Calif.

These well-known women and the many other equally dedicated Mothers' March volunteers across the nation seek their neighbors' support and contributions for the 1967 March of Dimes because the need is so vital and immediate.

Each year more than 250,000 American babies are born with birth defects, many of which can disfigure, disable or kill. That's about 700 infants born each day with a physical or mental defect. Birth defects each year destroy an estimated 500,000 infants before they are born. "On their Mothers' March from door to door, volunteers will have two main goals," Miss Wyatt explains.

"These women want to educate parents and parents-to-be about birth defects and what is known about how to prevent them. They will also try to raise funds to support the fight on birth defects."

The educational leaflet, "Happy Birth Day," will be distributed during the Mothers' March. It explains what to do if you are about to be married, if you are expecting a baby, if a birth defect occurs in your family or if you have friends with a defective child who needs assistance.

Contributions to the 1967 March of Dimes will help the fight on birth defects by supporting:

- The growing nationwide network of 77 Birth Defects Centers for diagnosis and treatment.
 - A scientific research program aimed at finding the causes and methods of preventing birth defects.
 - A Professional Education Program for scientists and medical personnel.
 - A nationwide Public Education Program to distribute authoritative information about prenatal care and birth defects treatment and research.
- The million mothers who march this month will share the certain knowledge that they will indeed be marching to help generations of babies yet unborn.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Baby's Refusal to Nurse May Be Tipoff on Cancer

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If your baby has been nursing well, then one day refuses to nurse from one breast, don't put this down to a mere whim. He may have discovered what you had not suspected—a beginning breast cancer. One of several mothers to whom this happened was still nursing a 20-month-old child. The child was old enough to talk and said the milk from the mother's left breast was no good. One time when this child became drowsy while nursing the right breast, the mother moved the child to the other side. The child awakened at once and refused to nurse.

The mother then used a breast pump to relieve the left breast and, in doing so, noticed a tumor. Doctors can only speculate as to why babies reject the milk from a breast with a beginning cancer. It may be that the breakdown products from the tumor give the milk an off-flavor.

Breast cancer in a nursing mother is not common but, when a baby calls attention to one by refusing the involved breast, it may be helping to save the mother's life. All lumps in the breast of a nursing mother are not cancer but, when they are found, tests to confirm or disprove the diagnosis should be made without delay.

Q—What is the cause of Paget's disease? How long can you live with it? Is there any cure?

A—The cause of osteitis deformans or Paget's disease is unknown but aging is a factor as most cases occur in persons over 40. Persons with this disease live until they die of some other cause. The disease is slowly progressive. It begins with a softening of the involved bone which may cause some deformity. This is followed by a replacement of the soft bone with bone that is harder and thicker than normal.

No cure is known but the progress of the disease can be slowed or halted by getting a diet that is rich in vitamin C and milk or other sources of calcium. Aspirin and small doses of fluoride are also helpful.

Q—Would a girl who is an X-ray technician be in danger of having an abnormal child due to exposure to X rays?

A—X-ray technicians should wear film badges or other devices to check the amount of exposure to which they are subjected. They should also have a periodic blood count. With properly shielded modern equipment and a careful observance of the safeguards every technician is taught there should be no danger.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Social Security
Stake Calls for Alert Citizenship

As you know from the new level of paycheck deductions the cost of Social Security went up the first of the year — about a billion a year for the entire nation.

The new tax rate is 4.4 per cent each on employee and employer up to $6,600 of annual payroll earnings. And built-in raises by law will keep the SS tax climbing through the year 1987.

But Social Security was a humble starter back in 1936. Then the payroll tax on both employee and employer was only half of one per cent — now the rate is nine-fold greater and applies to a much larger share of the paycheck.

Fundamentally the idea of compulsory thrift for one's old age was the No. 1 achievement of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration. Oddly enough, the idea of individual thrift occurred to the same administration which set in motion the forces of prodigal government spending which are rolling across our country to this very day.

Social Security itself is O. K. — but it poses this $64 question: Can any savings institution ever be secure when its entire stake is in the hands of a free-spending government that not only doesn't save money itself but goes on year after year spending more than it collects in taxes?

Considering the nature of their stakeholder it behooves Social Security dues-payers — and that means all Americans — to be constantly more alert to financial abuses by government as the years go by. We should be especially interested in learning whether the government is actually trying to support itself with general taxes or merely "borrowing" from the trust funds of Social Security.

Tax funds are "up for grabs" whatever administration is in power, and the damage done by one group of politicians may be remedied by the next; but Social Security's trust funds are committed, however distant the date, and if the Treasury happens to be empty when citizens call for repayment then you will see a crisis remarkably like old-fashioned disasters such as an insurance company failure or a bank closing. Not quite the same, of course, but just as painful — for the new crisis managers of government would have to levy crushing new general taxes to cover the shortage in Social Security.

Sure, Social Security is O. K. — but don't let it lure you into the thought that it means Americans can abandon their habit of personal saving. All private tax-paying industry has to have a saving nation behind it if private enterprise is to endure.

National figures show that there is invested in American manufacturing $21,600 for every jobholder. Without that private saving account there would be no jobs. There is no such thing as an indispensable jobholder — but the saving that created a job and keeps it going . . . this is the indispensable one.

Bourke is the son of Mrs. Frederic Avery Bourke and the late Frederic Bourke.

Would Prohibit Topless Waitresses

Worst Cold of Winter Hits Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The worst cold wave of the winter has sent temperatures below the zero mark in a 12-state area from Montana to Michigan and south to Missouri.

The arctic air spread south and east, from Louisiana to New England.

Temperatures of 20 below or lower were common in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Bismarck, N.D., became the nation's icebox late Tuesday as the mercury shivered at the 40-below-zero mark.

Snow squalls, moving with icy northwest winds, peppered the Great Lakes region.

Two inches of new snow were recorded at Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

The snow spread east ahead of the cold wave from Arkansas into Tennessee and neighboring states.

Light rain fell ahead of the snow in a line from Louisiana into Alabama.

Skies were mostly clear over the Southwest, through the south Atlantic states and over the frigid Midwest.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 31 below zero at Alexandria, Minn., and Bismarck, N.D. to 71 at Miami, Florida.

Realtors Elect New Officers

Charles R. Wilburn was inducted as president of Hope Board of Realtors at a meeting last night at the office of Greening-Ellis Company. He succeeds Vincent W. Foster, whose term expired.

Other new officers include W. H. Byrd, Vice-president; and Leonard F. Ellis, secretary-treasurer. P. M. Brown, president of the Texarkana board and a regional vice-president of the State Real Estate Association, administered the oath of office.

Pine Bluff Prosecutor Gets Report

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Prosecutor Joe Holmes of Pine Bluff has been given a copy of the State Police's 67-page report on conditions at the Tucker Prison Farm in Jefferson County last August and September.

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell handed the report to Holmes and later told newsmen that Holmes said only that he would have to study the report before deciding what to do.

Holmes told newsmen only that it was "quite a report." He then departed before newsmen could question him.

The report, released Monday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, was prepared by the Criminal Investigation Division of the State Police. It quoted inmates and other abuses at the prison farm.

Plans were made last night by nine civic clubs for a ration to get Hempstead's quota of blood. Each club will go on the radio and appeal for members to donate blood. Each club's quota is 60 pints.

If not successful, the Hempstead will be drawn from the county bank. Last year the county guaranteed to donate 400 pints, actually gave only 231 and actually used 749.

Stafford was elated because Rockefeller had just signed his signature onto House Bill No. 8, and in doing so, had written an end to eight years of frustration for Stafford and other northeast Arkansas partisans who had been working to make Arkansas State College a university.

House Bill No. 8, approved by a lopsided Senate vote less than two hours earlier, does just that — effective July 1.

Before Rockefeller signed the bill again for the benefit of photographers, Stafford patted him on the back and pulled him close.

"I want the members of the press to know that the governor and I are on speaking terms."

If the bill's success was all it took to pacify Stafford, who had been fuming for more than a week over the dismissal of a revenue inspector in his county, reconciliation was never a question: The measure had nothing but smooth sailing from the moment it was introduced.

The House Education Committee gave it a "do pass" recommendation last Wednesday and the House complied with a vote of 83-16. The bill got a similar recommendation from the Senate Education Committee Tuesday morning, and the Senate passed it 29-5 that afternoon.

Rockefeller had said Monday that he would sign it.

The third try proved the charm for the Indians, many of whom helped pack the Senate galleries Tuesday afternoon, because similar attempts in the legislative sessions of 1959 and 1961 proved unsuccessful.

Goal for this year will be 700. Mr. Kent said, the county organization completed 1966 with 656 member farm families enrolled.

Members of the membership committee and officials of the county Farm Bureau will meet with other groups from this area January 26, at the Town and Country Restaurant in Hope, in a district kickoff session called by Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation to plan for the drive. The county drive will get underway February 1.

University Status for A-State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Fred Stafford had only harsh words for the man after a patronage dispute last week, but the senator from Marked Tree was all smiles Tuesday when he handed into Gov. Rockefeller's.

"I want to make a member of the Tribe," said, and forthwith pinned an Arkansas State Indian on the governor's lapel.

Stafford was elated because Rockefeller had just signed his signature onto House Bill No. 8, and in doing so, had written an end to eight years of frustration for Stafford and other northeast Arkansas partisans who had been working to make Arkansas State College a university.

House Bill No. 8, approved by a lopsided Senate vote less than two hours earlier, does just that — effective July 1.

Before Rockefeller signed the bill again for the benefit of photographers, Stafford patted him on the back and pulled him close.

"I want the members of the press to know that the governor and I are on speaking terms."

If the bill's success was all it took to pacify Stafford, who had been fuming for more than a week over the dismissal of a revenue inspector in his county, reconciliation was never a question: The measure had nothing but smooth sailing from the moment it was introduced.

The House Education Committee gave it a "do pass" recommendation last Wednesday and the House complied with a vote of 83-16. The bill got a similar recommendation from the Senate Education Committee Tuesday morning, and the Senate passed it 29-5 that afternoon.

Rockefeller had said Monday that he would sign it.

The third try proved the charm for the Indians, many of whom helped pack the Senate galleries Tuesday afternoon, because similar attempts in the legislative sessions of 1959 and 1961 proved unsuccessful.

Goal for this year will be 700. Mr. Kent said, the county organization completed 1966 with 656 member farm families enrolled.

Bill Would Give Control to Democrats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. W. K. Ingram of West Memphis moved Tuesday to regain Democratic control of county election commissions by making the Democratic Party the majority party in Arkansas technically as well as in fact.

Ingram introduced a bill that would make the state's majority political party the one whose candidates are elected to a majority of the constitutional offices.

Under present law, the majority party is the one that polls the most votes for governor. That party is entitled to name the majority of the members of county election commissions.

The Democrats became the minority party under the law when Winthrop Rockefeller, a Republican, was elected governor. A majority of the state constitutional officers, however, are Democrats.

In the House, the representatives passed and sent to Rockefeller a bill changing the name of Henderson State Teachers College at Arkadelphia to Henderson State College. Earlier, the Senate and House passed a bill to change the name of Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway to State College of Arkansas.

Backers of both proposals said the measures reflected more accurately the broad scope of educational activities at the colleges.

Both the Senate and House voted to repeal a 1929 law requiring payment of the poll tax to receive salaries from public funds and to obtain certain licenses and permits. The Senate voted to exempt agricultural labor from provisions of the state income tax withholding law.

The House also approved the Senate version of a bill appropriating $8 million for state income tax refunds this fiscal year. The House passed its own measure earlier.

In other action, the Senate asked the State Police to furnish senators with a copy of the State Police report on Tucker Prison Farm.

The House voted without dissent to approve a bill by Rep. Otis Hammons of Forrest City prohibiting the manufacture or use of "Molotov cocktails."

Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock introduced a bill prohibiting secret meetings by any governmental unit except grand juries and requiring that records of those units be open to public inspection.

Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith, one of three Republicans in the House, filed a bill establishing an Arkansas Tax Study Commission. The commission would study the state's tax laws and submit recommendations to reduce inequities, duplication and inefficiency in enforcement.

Both the House and Senate received bills changing the method of selecting members of the Arkansas Legislative Council.

Sen. Guy Jones of Conway introduced a bill to levy a special two per cent excise tax on all alcoholic beverages sold in the state.

Other measures introduced in the House include:

— An act prohibiting election judges and clerks from revealing the results of votes cast in any state election until after 6:30 p.m. on election days.

— A bill to make it a felony for two or more persons to assault a law enforcement officer.

— An act providing election judges and clerks and other officials a minimum of $7 for conducting an election.

— An act making it unlawful to exhibit, sell, circulate and possess an obscene film.

— A bill setting the opening and closing of the polls at 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

— A bill changing the opening and closing of the polls from 8 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

$73 Billion Defense Request Almost Sure of Congress Approval

By GAYLORD SHAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Initial reaction to President Johnson's announcement that he will seek a $73 billion defense budget indicates Congress will vote any funds needed to finance the war in Vietnam.

But requests for military spending not related directly to the war could run into tough opposition.

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday night that his requests for defense spending in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will total $73 billion — an increase of about $5 billion over the current level. He also disclosed he soon will ask Congress for a $9.4 billion supplemental defense appropriation for the current fiscal year.

At the peak of World War II, defense spending totaled about $88 billion a year. The Korean war peak topped $59 billion.

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., a member of the Armed Services Committee, said in an interview the proposed defense budget "might be scrutinized a little closer than usual but I don't think there will be any trouble getting support for the war."

Stennis singled out military construction projects as an example of spending that might get a closer look.

Another Democratic member of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, said congressional action on the over-all defense budget will "depend on the justification" the administration presents but added he expects war spending requests to be approved. He noted that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara goes before the panel in closed session next Monday to start outlining the administration's case.

One Republican member of the committee, Sen. Jack R. Miller of Iowa, said that as long as Johnson justifies his requests for Vietnam spending, "I would anticipate that he would have no particular problem in getting them."

But Stennis and Miller said any request for funds for an antimissile defense system could touch off controversy.

"This antimissile missile matter is going to be a large item in controversy," Stennis said. "Heretofore I've supported large amounts but I think it ought to be carefully examined this year."

In his State of the Union message a week ago, Johnson told Congress the Soviet Union "has begun to place near Moscow a limited antimissile defense."

But he did not say whether he would give the go-ahead for a similar U.S. system designed to knock down attacking missiles before they reach their targets.

About 15 deputy sheriffs, highway patrolmen and agents of the state law enforcement division surrounded Elrod's house Tuesday night after he fired rifle shots when an officer tried to arrest him on a traffic charge.

Purcell said Hale had volunteered to resign twice during the previous week when Purcell questioned him about remarks to subpoena Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to testify at a hearing on auto insurance rate increases.

Later Hale's bylined story in The Pine Bluff Commercial Sunday told of "sordid" conditions at the Tucker Prison Farm. It led Rockefeller to release a 67-page State Police report on an investigation of the prison last summer, Rockefeller said.

Purcell said Hale had been told "not to make any more public statements without my prior knowledge concerning public officials and constitutional officers" following his statement to subpoena the governor.

Then came the prison article and Hale later "admitted he was not honest with me," Purcell said.

The cases will be heard by two federal judges, Oren Harris and Gordon E. Young.

The plaintiffs were filed by Lyle Edward Ernst Jr., Grady W. Mask and William King Jackson. Each charged they had been whipped in connection with work quotas.

They charge that use of the strap is "cruel and unusual punishment" in violation of the constitution.
